Former Tech pitcher makes MLB debut

MIAMI — Former Texas Tech and Estacado pitcher A.J. Ramos struck out the side in his Major League debut Tuesday night for the Miami Marlins.

Ramos, a right-hander who pitched for Tech from 2006-2009, struck out Milwaukee's Rickie Weeks, Ryan Braun and Aramis Ramirez in the top of the ninth inning of the Marlins' 8-4 loss.

Ramos was called up to Miami on Sunday night.
